Resume

Leonard Steinberg is the Principal of Steinberg Enterprises, LLC. He is a federally licensed Enrolled Agent (EA). Mr. Steinberg specializes in small business and nonprofit organizations.

The tax practice consists of comprehensive tax services focusing on tax problem resolution and representation services and tax planning. The organization represents all types of businesses (e.g., Proprietorship, Partnership, S-Corp and C-Corp, Exempt Organizations, Payroll, Sales and Use, Estates, Trusts and Foundations). Mr. Steinberg handles personal, business, nonprofit, estates, trusts, foundations, divorce issues, bankruptcy filings, and tax court preparation. His representation services include advocacy for all federal issues before the Internal Revenue Service and state tax issues. He negotiates Installment Agreements and Offers in Compromise. He represents his clients with Collection Due Process Hearings, Appeals, and Trust Fund Recovery Penalty issues.

Mr. Steinberg was involved with tax national issues through his appointment to the Federal Taxpayer Advocacy Panel from 2001 through 2004, representing individuals and small businesses for the State of New Jersey. He was Chairman of the Small Business/Self-Employed Subcommittee.

Mr. Steinberg was member of the Small Business Advisory Committee (SBAC) of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) dealing with financial reporting issues for public and private companies.

Mr. Steinberg has testified at 3 different invitations before the House of Representatives Committee on Small Business and the Subcommittee on Regulatory Affairs.

Mr. Steinberg has made business and tax presentations at professional seminars sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service (New Jersey Working Together), Paychex, and Jewish Vocational Services to companies and practitioners throughout the metropolitan area. He also lectured nationally for Lorman Education Services in the subject areas of Internal Controls and Fraud Detection and Prevention, Nonprofit Management, and Federal taxation. He has taught Accounting, Bookkeeping, and Internal Controls and Fraud Detection and Prevention at Mercer County Community College.
