Minor in Information Systems

Information systems are an integral part of all organizations. In today's digital era, technology is no longer just the purview of the IT function in an organization. Technology has cross-functional importance, and students in all business majors need to have knowledge of information systems and how they are used to support business operations and achieve organizational strategy. Students in the minor will take four required courses and choose two courses from a variety of electives depending on their area of interest.

Required Courses: 12 s.h.

Course Name	Credits:	Term Taken	Grade	Gen Ed
MIS 02234 - Management Information Systems	Credits: 3
MIS 02338 - Design of Database Systems	Credits: 3
MIS 02322 - Principles of System Design	Credits: 3
CS 01107 - Introduction to Programming for Business Applications	Credits: 3

Electives: 6 s.h.
